ANNOUNCEMENTS.

FOR COUNTY CLERK.

We are authorized to announce JAMES P. AND T. L. candidates for Judge of Adair County, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

FOR JAILER.

We are authorized to announce JAMES P. AND T. L. candidates for Jailer of Adair County, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Boyle county jurors are doing their duty. Two wilful murderers were convicted at the term of circuit court, just closed, and the death penalty will be inflicted.

Hon. John E. Massie, one of the ablest men in Virginia, died at his home in Charlottesville. Mr. Massie was a power on the stump and no Republican ever put him to flight.

Jacksonville, Fla., has suffered a great loss. Fire broke out in the main part of the city last week, destroying $15,000,000 worth of property and rendering ten thousand people homeless.

Philips has a "corner" on corn so it is said and the price is rapidly advancing. The negro plays dice and goes to jail, the poor white man plays cards and goes to destruction, but the big fellows, the money king, who gamble in stock, bonds and merchandise become powers in the political world and land in the U. S. Senate to dispense blessing to their fellowmen.

John C. Underwood, Lieutenant Governor of Kentucky under Leslie, was awarded $25,000 damages in his suit for libel against Editor Cunningham and the Methodist Publishing House at Nashville, which prints the Confederate Veteran. The jury gave the plaintiff judgment for $15,000 against Cunningham and the publishing house jointly, and $10,000 extra against Cunningham.

After a five days' raid through the heart of the Letcher county kluxus country and into the stronghold of the Reynolds band, John Wright and his posse have returned to Whitesburg, having captured John Reynolds, the wounded outlaw, and having caught a bare glimpse of the other men wanted. The expected meeting between Detective Wright and the band of outlaws did not occur, however, as Judge Auxier, of Pikeville, refused to surrender Creed, Sol and Mart Potter to that officer, and there was no inducement offered the kluxus gang to attack him.

It seems that our editorial in last week's issue, in regard to the position of the Republican papers and leaders in this State toward the Ripley trial and its bearing on those who have fled, hurt some unknown person in this vicinity to such an extent that the article was clipped and mailed to me. It was marked in red ink and also contained a clipping from some paper, headed: "Will the Kluxus get Taylor and Finley."

On the clipping appeared several comic pictures one with rope in hand, marked "Harris." No name was signed and we do not know who would be so low, so vile and so cowardly as to attack us anonymously. It shows to our mind that he endorses the murder of Mr. Gobbel and that he is too stealthy and cowardly to come out in the open and meet the article in a manly way. When a man is without courage to back up his convictions in a free country, and he resorts to anonymous attempts, he has sunk below the level of common decency and respect, and is drinking the dregs of human depravity. If the article was so obnoxious or if it did not convey the truth, respectable avenues stand open for redress. Meet us in the open like a man, if you can't stand the pressure of The News.

How can temperance people succeed in their work when ministers spurn the saloon-keeper. At Baltimore, last Thursday, Rev. A. Frederick Storer, a prominent Lutheran minister, while addressing a body of whisky sellers, by invitation from them said: "I myself have spent many happy hours among you, and in a saloon I have always been as safe as in my own home. Temperance ideas are a failure. Nature should have such little wants as a glass of beer, for instance, gratified. I only wish I had the influence or the power to speak to your enemies, and I will do it when I have the chance. I am a member of the society of all decent people."

President McKinley and party, now touring the Southern and West-m States, are meeting with demonstrations of warm welcome at every stop. This does not indicate that the people are with him politically, but that they recognize him as President of the greatest country on earth; that they are loyal to the general government and respect its chief officer regardless of personal views.

The President is making speeches, short and appropriate at every stop, and while he gives taffy and arouses the patriotism, to some extent, of his hearers, behind the whole move is the deep laid plan and purpose to win the people to his Philosophy administration and the Ship Sabbath Bill that will be pushed through the next Congress.

It is generally conceded that Gov. Beckam will appoint Hon. Jas. D. Black, of Barbourville, Circuit Judge to succeed Judge J. H. Tinsley, who has been appointed District Attorney for the Eastern Kentucky Federal District. No better selection could be made. Mr. Black is a profound lawyer, a gentleman of very high character. He was Mr. Beckam's strongest opponent for the nomination for Governor, and when defeated, like a true Democrat that he is, took the stamp for the nominee. In giving him the appointment a just compliment will be bestowed.

GLENS PLANTING.

Corn planting is about over. The wheat crop in this vicinity is not a failure by any means.

Prof. Fred M. Scheider is visiting his daughter, Miss Lola.

Z. G. Hardwick and Minnie White, of Neatburg, are attending the Normal at this place.

Mr. S. R. Ford, who has been visiting relatives and friends in this community, returned home a few days ago.

Rob. Yates, our overseer on the Glenville and Monteplex road, is a hustler. That road has been sadly neglected for several years, but Mr. Yates is getting it in good shape.

Joel Wilkinson and family who have been living in Texas for several months, returned to this place a few days ago.

Prof. Horace Jeffries is teaching a very interesting normal at this place with seventeen pupils in attendance.

Chapman & Walkup have removed their stock of goods to their large two-story building on the north side of Main street. They are expanding.

OBITUARY

Miss Malinda Franklin, whose maiden name was Young, was born in Adair county, Ky., February 10, 1832; was married to Josiah Franklin, August 6, 1850. They were blessed with nine children, eight of whom are still living, so far as known to the family. She gave her heart to God before she became hardened in sin, and united with the Methodist Church, South, in the year 1852, and endeavored to walk with God from that time until God called her from labor to rest, April 20, 1901.

She was afflicted for seven years before her death, and for more than two years before she had to admit to earth that she was confined to her bed and suffered much during those years, but the grace of God sustained her, and as she drew near the end of her journey she expressed herself as being ready to meet her God. She was a kind, true woman, and the world is better because of her upright life. Her children are good, useful citizens.

May they have the everlasting arms beneath them in this time of trouble.

Her funeral service was conducted by the writer, assisted by her pastor, Rev. James A. Johnson.

JESSE L. MURKELL.

Senator Hanna will no doubt kindly drop in at the White House occasionally during the absence of President McKinley to see that everything is running in ship-shape. He can depend on prompt attention to business when Mr. McKinley is in the stewardship, but the other subordinates may not be discreet.

It is announced that David B. Hill will make a tour of the Southern States next fall. The conclusion is, of course, quickly drawn that there is a movement to nominate him for President of the United States in 1904. Perhaps, though, Mr. Hill is going South merely to help some Democrats out at the election.

Death Sentence.

Danville, Ky., April 30.—After being out since 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the jury in the case of Eugene Montgomery, the negro charged with murdering his four-year-old child to secure life insurance amounting to $35, rendered a verdict of guilty and fixed the death at death.

Montgomery seemed totally unmoved by the verdict, merely remarking to a negro, as he passed out, that he was to be hanged.

He is a notorious character and has served a term in the penitentiary.

This is the second death sentence to be imposed this year. Reuben Quinn having been sentenced last week for killing Policeman Crum.

The trial of Dan Fope, colored, who shot and killed a white man named John Baker, near Mitchellsburg, is set for tomorrow.

The Boer war has cost England $72,000,000 and it is likely that sum will be increased to a billion before the war is over. The spectacle of what was once the greatest nation on earth spending such an enormous sum of money in an effort to defeat a republic whose population is less than the city of Milwaukee is one which ought to make the British public open its eyes. And in addition to the money cost, the number of British lives lost in this war was higher than even they will admit. Truly President Kruger was prophetic when he said that the cost of putting down his country would stagger humanity.

The aristocratic suburb of Hyde Park, Chicago is in the throes of a revolution, and it is all on account of the High school. There are 550 pupils to graduate from that institution this year and as the school hall is not large enough to hold all their friends, and the board of education won't pay for the auditorium, some of the pupils want to dispense with the exercises altogether. Somebody suggested to charge admission, but the pupils scoffed at the idea. In a Michigan town, the whole graduating class served notices on the school board and faculty that they would not prepare any graduating exercises. They say that it is too old-fashioned and entirely tiresome. It will be seen that High school pupils are becoming very indecent in this 20th century of ours.

The colored man in the south will not be able to make much headway as a farmer until he gets out of the notion of running into debt for lighting rods, buggies, organs and fancy goods.

The Passing of the Confederate SoldierNew They Understand.

In the passing of the Confederate soldier much that is distinctive and noble in American character suffers loss. The term chivalry in connection with the southerner is somewhat trite, and a phrase of what was never the quality is sheer bombast and a stage role. But if you would know what real chivalry is, get intimately acquainted with almost any graybeard who wore the gray. This man, the steel of whose youth, issues from the fiery crucible pure gold, has given the world an example of heroism to prove greater than he gave it in war. He has never posed and held out his bat. The poverty that received him ranged and leant from the surrender has stuck to him closer than a brother, perhaps, these thirty-five years and the infirmities of age have added gait to life's wormwood cup, but he is swallowing the drops with the dignity of self-respect and the patience of a lotus manhood. This role of the Spartan breed was never a swagger breathing out threatenings, but gentle as a woman and simple as a child. He did and is doing his duty, as conscience taught him to see it, and he has accepted the consequences as such natures face frowns fate. God knows how he has "worried" on to this good day!

Here is a volume of insight into the character of the living confederate soldier in a brief paragraph. Georgia, the right arm of the confederacy and the Empire State of the South, is only now about to complete a modest frame for her invalid and superannuated veterans. Of the thousands of confederate soldiers who have valid claims upon this refuge in sickness and age, eighty-three have applied for admittance.

Flowers for our soldier dead, but better that bramble and underwood oblige their resting places from this generation's memory than that their surviving comrades be left to rot alone in their dire necessities. Each year sees more age-worn strangers drop out of this little army's ranks in the forced march of life.

Flowers for the sleepers, and the bosom of a country's love for the tired heads about to fall asleep. But, looking across to the shade of the eternal trees, there is something that disturbs the soul of the confederate veterans more than fear of pony and death. Jealous of the honor of his dead, he is afraid of the perversion of history.

Let him be reassured, We, his sons and daughters, will take care of that for him forever.—Sunny South.

If little Cuba is willing to meet Uncle Sam half-way, she'll find him waiting now with his part of the journey completed.

Nervous Prostration.

Mrs. Little Fisher says: I had nervous trouble for years, which at times completely prostrated me and made life not worth living. I tried many physicians and no end of nerve and other remedies without relief. Mr. J. C. Crews, merchant, Mafay, Iowa, persuaded me to try Mr. Torey's Sarsaparilla and Iron. The very first bottle went to the right spot, for I felt a complete change and now, after using all bottles in all I am perfectly well. Sold by agent in every town.

There were five thousand car loads of grapes marketed from the grape growing territory on the shores of Lake Erie last season. These grapes were mostly Concords, Isabell and Delawares.

If the men got up a "Fathers' Club" and talked nothing but hobby talk, all the women would believe they did nothing but drink cocktails.

No matter how great a General may be he is apt to leave more or less on his staff.

A Sprained Ankle Quickly Cured.

"At one time I suffered from a severe sprain of the ankle," says Geo E. Carr, editor of the Guide, Washington, Va. "After using several well recommended medicines without success, I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and am pleased to say that relief came as soon as I began its use and a complete cure speedily followed. This remedy has also been used in my family for frost bitten feet with the best results. I sincerely recommend it to all who may need a first-class liniment." Sold by M. Craven.

Wages for farmhands are about $3 a month higher this year than they have been for many years. The farmhand can now wear a red necktie and creepsants and smoke "twofers."

A woman can get engaged and have the wedding all talked over to less time than she can decide with another woman what is the best kind of canary seed.

Now that the delegates sent to Washington by the Cuban Constitutional Convention have been fully enlightened as to the logic and justice of the American attitude toward their country in the matter of future relations between the two Governments, it is in order to hope that an amicable official understanding, may soon be reached.

All that was necessary to this end was that the Cubans should bring to their study of the conditions of the Platt amendment a spirit devoid of suspicion of American motives. The United States Government is not trying to prevent the establishment of a free and independent Cuban Republic by means of a friendly protection which shall effectually warn Europe to keep hands off Cuba when that little Government is finally established.

There is reason to believe that the Cuban delegates now appreciate the fairness of the proposition which guarantees permanency to the Cuban Republic, while at the same time properly safeguarding American interests.

The report to be made by the delegates to the Cuban Constitutional Convention should produce speedy and satisfactory results. If it is properly based on the facts in the case it will so strongly recommend the acceptance of the conditions named in the Platt amendment that such action on the part of the convention will be inevitable.—St. Louis Republic.

Europe Stands Clear.

English financiers are probably wise in making no attempt to participate in the great bull movement on the New York Stock Exchange, the amazing extent of which has both bewildered and alarmed the outside world.

The failure of Europe to yield to the pressure of this movement of this magnitude of this movement seems to be due to the fact that it sees no especial reason for such a movement.

What has happened to justify a belief that securities of all sorts are legitimately bound to go sky-high in price, and that even stocks which have never paid or earned a dividend are good investments at figures way above their par value? What is sending such stocks up, beyond the manipulations of interested outsiders?

European bankers are asking these questions and finding no satisfactory answers.

To a cautious and conservative mind, the situation seems to be simple. The people of this country are prosperous. The great commercial and industrial corporations are making money. There is a logical reason for a logical advance in sound stocks that have already demonstrated their dividend-earning ability. There is no reason for a wild bull boom. There is no reason why stocks that have never paid or earned a dividend should be more desirable as investments now than before the wild bull boom began. Remember these plain truths. It may mean money in your pocket.

It's Easy To Feel Good.

Thousands have found a blessing to the body in Dr. King's New Life Pills, which positively cure Constipation, Sick Headache, Dizziness, Sunstroke, Malaria, Fever and Ague and Pure Vegetable; never gripes or weakens. And all Liver and Stomach troubles. And all Liver and Stomach troubles. Only $2 at T. E. Paul's drug store.

It is now time for the stockmen to advertise their stock. In our judgment the newspaper that reaches the most to the very best market is Bill Dooley's. He is the only one who writes as they are rarely seen but a few miles from home; their purpose in the main is to set forth terms. The News, read by 5,000 people every week, is ready to tell the story. If you have good stock, worthy and desirable advertise in this paper.

The Boer war has already cost the British government more than the Crimean war, and the prospects are that the expenses are not all over.

The great and mighty British empire is about to become bankrupt and all to become Cecil Rhodes. And the British public seem to be satisfied. It is hard to understand Mr. J. B. Howard and Powers' defense of the British house of Commons will not appropriate any money for the relief of the famine-stricken people of India this year, and it is also safe to say that the Irish taxes will not be reduced. These two things may cause complications in Anglo-Saxon affairs that may help the cause of the Boers very materially.

Job Couldn't Name stood It. He'd had Icing Piles. They're terribly annoying; but Buckle's Arnica will cure the worst case of piles on earth. It has cured hundreds of thousands. For Injuries, Pains or Bodily Eruptions it is the best salve in the world. Price 25c a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by T. E. Paul.

It is said that a Lancashire man sent following along to his family physician: "My wife's a fool, least death's door. Please call and see if you can't pull her through."

Young Women

The entry into womanhood is a sad time for a girl. Little miseries grow into fatal complications. The female troubles are filling graveyards now. Wine of Cardui, with Thaddeus' Blackbark root, when applied, and to day I am greatly cured. I can eat and sleep well for what you have done for me.

Miss Della M. Stever, Tally, Kan.

I have had a sore throat for a long time, was nervous, had a sore appetite, and lost interest in everything. Life was miserable. I have taken four bottles of Wine of Cardui, with Thaddeus' Blackbark root, when applied, and to day I am greatly cured. I can eat and sleep well for what you have done for me.
